Notes

HNZ New Zealand Limited has been in operation since 1955. We have grown from a family business focused on light helicopters, to a multinational, large helicopter operator that is well regarded in numerous countries for offering safe and reliable services to a premium client base. HNZ is the International Division of a larger helicopter group and Nelson is the HQ for all international operations outside of America and Mexico. Our New Plymouth operational supports the offshore oil and gas industry in Taranaki. HNZ's involvement with offshore oil and gas began in 1968 when Esso Exploration and Petroleum drilled New Zealand's first offshore well, Moa 1, approximately 34 kilometres northwest of New Plymouth. Since this historic event, HNZ has been involved in the development of the Maui, Tui, Maari and Kupe fields of the Taranaki Basin. Our current relationships are with Beach Energy, Shell Taranaki Limited, OMV and Tamarind. These companies make up 100% of our client base in New Zealand. If activity in the industry ceases, we may not be able to provide jobs for our 30 New Plymouth based employees. OMV has a proven track record of safe and environmentally-friendly operations at the Maari field (PMP38160) and we are confident that they will continue to do so if their application is granted.
