Notes

All around New Zealand our water resources are becoming polluted and unusable all in the name of profit. I feel sad and embarrassed about the legacy I am leaving my grandchildren. Te Waikoropupū Springs are one of the few reminders we have of how water sources should look. The very fact that a clean water spring is a tourist attraction should sound alarm bells. Do the right thing and save this special habitat. Look to the future not just the bottom line.
