Notes

Te Waikoropupu Springs is a national treasure that we would be fools to squander. It's important to me and my family that we value our natural resources, in particular Te Waikoropupu Springs. It's essential that we teach our children to value our natural environment so that in the future they will treat it with the respect it deserves. Te Waikoropupu Springs is irreplaceable. Nothing - not profits from gold, or profits from milk solids - warrants risking the destruction of this important environmental and historical taonga.
