Notes

MY husband and I visited the springs 10 years ago and they seemed remarkably pristine. My first impressions were of a Taonga, an untouched body of water special to indigenous people's, all New Zealanders and tourists I am passionate about supporting any measures to protect Waikoropupu springs from further degradation, particularly from intensive farming in the area. It is unbelievable that we should put such a special place under threat once again. Please put measures in place immediately to save the Waikoropupu Springs. Many thanks, Maureen Robertson
