Notes

I have visited the Te Waikoropupū Springs several times with different overseas visitors. It's unimaginably beautiful and always gets the same response regarding the clarity of the water. To know this area is under threat is distressing. How can this generation believe it has the right to pollute and contaminate an area so pristine for millions of years simply for short term financial gain. Once the aquifers are contaminated it's terminal . I implore you to protect FOREVER this amazing place Too much in New Zealand has already been lost to future generations. It must not continue.
