Notes

I remember visiting Te Waikoropupū springs on my early teens with my mother and couldn't believe how clear the water was. I would love to take my children and show them this amazing place in the near future. Being a southerner I have travelled around the south island a bit and have seen nothing else like it. It would be such a shame to see it destroyed in the name of profit. The springs are an ecological treasure that requires protection to prevent any further nitrate pollution. There are already so many waterways polluted in NZ please keep this one, the jewel of them all clean.

Clause

I/we seek the following recommendation from the Special Tribunal to the Minister for the Environment

Position

Grant the order
