Notes

It is vital that the land use above the aquifer and elsewhere in the Takaka catchment that feeds into the aquifer be compatible with the ongoing health of the aquifer and the tiny creatures within it. Specifically, the detrimental effect of high intensity farming on water nitrate levels already increasing at an unacceptable level be contained. The experience in Canterbury has led to a rapid decline in the quality of the water with effects felt by people in the towns. Where the opportunity to avoid the degradation occurs it must be taken.
