Notes

There are very special natural places in New Zealand that must be protected from the ongoing onslaught of farming and forestry practices; as well there seems to be a general malaise around the notion of keeping our natural habitat pristine. Te Waikoropupu Springs are a very special place, very accessible for everyone and so beautiful. It is important to protect forever, not accept that a certain level of pollution is either inevitable or acceptable.

Clause

I/we seek the following recommendation from the Special Tribunal to the Minister for the Environment

Grant the order
