Dean Storer [REDACTED], i am in favour of Queenstown progressing, but what is going to happen to the 100 or so car parks that will be lost. When we brought the property i thought it was a nice quiet street, little did i know this was going to happen, how much noisier will it be, is it going to devalue our property, i think Queenstown has already let the horse bolt as you have let all these subdivisions go ahead with out getting your infrastructure in place as you can see with serwage and roading. Is there going to be trees planted along Melbourne st, if there is i hope there is a hight limit on them, as a lot of trees out grow themselves, i dont want my view to totally dissappear. Back to car parks, a lot of people like driving into the city center but it is fustraiting not being able to find parks especialy if you are from out of town, Dunedin is a good example of no where to park i hope Queenstown doesnt end up the same, not everyone has an ebike or car, [ i just worry where all these ebattery end up ], thank you.
